Kingdom of Survivors

Working with fellow seniors on the Lion's Den Yearbook Staff for the past two years has proven that hard work and dedication pays off. Late night meetings brought lots of fun and laughter while coping with Ms. Purtle's never ending energy. After surviving crashing computers, cropping pictures, and ever changing captions we would like to dedicate this years annual to the graduating class of 2001!

People

From prom and pep rallies to football games and spirit week, students were able to pass away the time with many memorable moments. By participating in student activities, they were able to become more involved with school and campus life. Years from now, students will glance back and relive the moments when they Existed Together at NBHS.

Seniors will have fond memories of graduation and the junior-senior prom where they laughed and cried together. Students survived the year one day at a time. Whether there were tests to be taken, homework to do, or spirit days to participate in, the year was a success. Graduation will leave underclassmen an interesting path to follow.

Putting the pep back in rally

The cheerleaders move the PG pep rally to the football field for a change of pace. Students liked being outside instead of the gym. During the week StuCo sponsored a "kiss the pig" contest. Coach Hansleley and Mrs. Olson raised the most money. "I felt sorry for the pig!" Michele Shute said.

'Toughman' Survivor

Senior Chris Abercrombie reacts to a TKO during a night's round of fights at the 15th Annual Toughman Contest. At only 18, Abercrombie is the youngest fighter to ever win a championship in Texarkana. "This was something I've always wanted to do," Abercrombie said, who was being cheered on by hundreds of New Boston supporters. "I wanted to fight last year, but you've got to be 18."

Keeping the beat

Quinton Jones, Cedric Dorsey, Alex Johnson, and Timothy Dorsey show off their dance moves for the crowd. They entertained students during several pep rallies. "I love to dance, and when I get to entertain the crowd as well, it makes it more worth the while," Jones said.

Moving Closer

Seniors gathered at center court for one last group hug at the senior pep rally. This was the last time they would stand together to root the Lion's to victory. "The senior year is not any different until graduation nears. I have felt so overwhelmed with all of the excitement that I can barely remember where the year went," Leann Rains said.

those senior moments

On any given day in kindergarten there was always a special friend to hold hands with while going out on the playground.

On any given day in junior high there was always a special friend to tell that secret that you didn't want anyone else to know.

On any given day in high school there was always a special friend to meet at your locker before each class.

These days are numbered as seniors have reached the last stop in a 13-year journey.

Venturing in to the real world, each will go their own separate ways, each holding unforgettable memories.

Exemplary TAAS scores, bringing back the traveling trophy from Dekalb, and going to state with our Military Stride with Pride Band are just a few of the moments that will remain forever in our minds and close to our hearts.

Whether our time is spent meeting deadlines in yearbook or shooting lay-ups on the court, everyone will take these high school experiences with them.

From the ABC's and 123's of kindergarten to Shakespearean quotes and quadratic equations in high school, we experienced it all together. The possibilities for the future of this class are endless. We have aspiring veterinarians, teachers, doctors, lawyers, accountants, and maybe even a future president.

On graduation day we can exist together by holding hands one more time but hearts forever.

Lover's Island

'He loves me; he loves me not'

It happens when talking with friends across the room and suddenly your eyes lock and you are instantly swept off your feet. Couples experience this movie-like love story when meeting someone that makes their heart go pitter-patter.

Having a boyfriend or girlfriend can make coming to school daily something to look forward to; or it could make coming to school dreaded. Either way, cupid shoots his arrows every year and new couples get together.

A time for pondering
Keaton White stands on his throne. The drama club float represented Medieval Times.

Gettin' down
Is it the "blues" or "Lion Polka" that Kevin Daniels and Danny Buchanan belt out at the bonfire pep rally?

Catch!
Jena Snowden and Rachel Bairrington throw footballs to the crowd in the streets of downtown.

Ready to roll
The science club had a convoy of vehicles in the parade, but they didn't all have this much spirit. Dustin Jones and Kim Self painted their faces maroon and white while they waited with Robyn Goodsell for the action to begin.

students play to the extreme

The spirit of 2000!

Bright lights in the little city ... No homecoming parade would be complete without the cheerleaders yelling for their home team!

Breaking through

The cheerleaders and spirit club members painted two run-throughs for our boys. This sign warns the Dragons that their time is running out. "I like having the run-through for the second half because it gets us fired up and ready to go again," Joey Hawthorne said.

Come on baby

Clint Williams pulls in dance partner Ashley Pounds. JV cheerleaders sponsored a HC dance in the old gym.

A dragon with no fire

Daniel Hobbs mocked the Redwater mascot in his blue-horned outfit. He knows it's much better to be a NB fan doing a "Lion Dance."

2000 Homecoming Court

Larky's Angels

A roaring pep rally, award winning floats, and a flaming bonfire set the scene for a triumph over Redwater. Homecoming for the Lions was a success! It has become tradition for the senior class to elect eight princesses to represent New Boston High School. This year Brandi Fausett was voted 2000 Homecoming Queen.

"After being in the hospital all week and being released in just enough time to make it to the pep rally and game I was overwhelmed and excited hearing my name over the speaker," Fausett said.

Miranda Allen

"I think it was an honor to just be chosen for the court. I enjoyed the whole week of being a princess."

Haley Pynes

"My favorite part was walking across the field while the band played and the cheerleaders blew bubbles. I also enjoyed getting lots of flowers!"

Moneta Barber

"I was excited because I had an excuse to go shopping for another new out fit. It was great to get to know all the other girls better."

Leah Miller

"My favorite part was being able to sit on the side line with the rest of the girls and actually being able to watch a game."

Lion Kings and Queens

Each princess chose two varsity football players to escort and present them with a rose during the pep rally. ⤴

Parading into heaven

Senior class members met at Cricket Avery's house and made a float for the court. . . . Lark's Angels. ⤴

Roaring laughter

Chris Looney, Johann Phillips, Jim Moore, Haley Pynes, and Leah Miller belly-laugh at Leah's dad and his antics. ⤴

Angel?

Moneta Barber smiles an innocent smile while waiting for the parade to begin. ⤴

On the side

Cool weather moved in for homecoming night. Low temperatures brought out winter coats and blankets. "I was excited about getting to dress up but our legs got a little cold in those skirts!" Sanders said. ⤴

Jamie Hensley

"I was glad to be chosen on the court and enjoyed being involved in all the different homecoming activities."

LaFaye Sanders

"My favorite part was not having to cheer and getting to enjoy the pep rally and game. Dressing up was fun too but we got a little chilly."

Brandi Fausett

"It was nice to be able to sit on the sidelines during the game. I'm glad we beat the Dragons 35-8!"

Alison Rolf

"I enjoyed the game the most because I think it is an honor for all eight girls to be recognized as they walk across the field representing our school."

Today's Dreams, Tommorrow's Memories

Eventful but never easy, prom is coordinated by juniors, class sponsors and parents. Money must be raised, committees must be appointed, and decisions must be made in order to have a successful prom.

Fundraisers such as the Christmas bazaar, working at McDonald's, selling cookbooks and soliciting donations from local businesses help to finance the blissful event.

The spiral stairway and elegant banquet room at Special Events on the Boulevard is easily enhanced with black, blue, and silver balloons, glittery confetti, twinkling white lights and fountains.

The night is set aside for seniors to reflect on the past 13 years and to make new memories.

As couples entered in their gowns and tuxedos they took their seats while junior officers read the senior prophecies which brought laughs of what the future holds. Then came the presentation of the senior video. Soon, doors to the dance floor opened and people quickly rushed to "cut-the-rug."

When the clock struck 12, most everyone changed clothes and headed off to Minton's Sportsplex for fun and play. Four hours later, it was time to return to New Boston for the breakfast and auction held at the fire department. Pancakes were served before prizes were auctioned away. Doc Martens shoes, jewelry, gift certificates, a truck bed liner, leather jacket, tickets to Hurricane Harbor, a television, and many other items were available.

Now it's time for juniors and seniors to paste another page in the memory book.

the FINAL Count down

At the end of every year, seniors of New Boston High School take one final final journey together. They have traveled to places like Missouri,

Galveston, and Florida to seek out the excitement of a world they are yet to discover. However, in the year

1977 all that changed. Because of circumstances beyond our control, the seniors of today take a trip to a place far more exhilarating, a technologically superior theme park known as Six Flags Over Texas. At 8:00 a.m.

they load two stylish charter buses and set off to experience the thrill of a lifetime, or so they are told. Many find the courage they never knew existed within them. It doesn't matter whether they are swinging from the Dive Bomber and coasting on the all mighty Titan or simply running away with the Mine Train and participating in water fights, the Class of 2001 is always prepared to have more than their share of fun.

NOT YOUR SCHOOL TYPICAL Year OF

Graduation

Valedictorian Alison Rolf addresses fellow classmates at graduation

"I hope you never lose your sense of wonder. You get your fill to eat, but always keep that hunger. May you never take one single breath for granted. God forbid love ever leave you empty handed. I hope you still feel small when you stand beside the ocean. Whenever one door closes, I hope one more opens. Promise me that you'll give fate the fighting chance, and when you get the choice to sit it out or dance, I hope you dance."

Senior Alison Rolf read these lyrics from Lee Ann Womack's song, I Hope You Dance, as she closed her valedictory address. As her fellow classmates realized their entire K-12 school life was coming to a sudden end, some of them began to softly cry. No matter where their roads will lead, these eighty-seven students will not forget the learning experiences in the most formative years of their lives.

Advising Council

Outstanding TAAS scores enabled New Boston Independent School District to be named exemplary by the Texas Education Agency. The Board of Trustees extends its heartfelt gratitude to the employees for their hard work on behalf of the students and of the district. It is a great honor to be recognized as exemplary, and student achievement is evidence of a high degree of professionalism and dedication.

Smooches and Smiles Mrs. Olson makes the best of her pig kissing experience at the Pleasant Grove pep rally. To raise money for charity the students put change in buckets placed in every teachers' room. Coach Hensley and Mrs. Olson received the largest donations.

Hand in hand. Teachers and students gathered after school to pray for Mr. Burkett while he was in the hospital.

Want lettuce with that? Mrs. Young was lending a hand at the tail gate party Century Bank sponsored before the P.G. game.

Packing up and marchin' out Ms. Manning and Mr. Melton load the band truck after performing in Gladewater at the UIL marching contest. The band received straight I's.

I want one this big Coach McDonald and Coach Tyndell goof around while waiting for their burgers at the tail gate party.

A bird's eye view Perched on Dad's shoulders Tyler Patton has a death grip in one hand and tucks his football in the other while watching spirit heat up at the bonfire.

Who do we look like? Mrs. Farris, Ms. Pace, Mr. Smith, Mrs. Brown, Ms. Meadows, Mrs. Epps Mrs. Briggs, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Young Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Turner, and Mrs. Stevenson dress as twinkies during spirit week. Teachers did all they could to boost spirit.

Stop in the name of Spirit Mrs. Epps dressed up like a movie star at the final pep rally for the "If I weren't a senior" skit.

I want one Mrs. Mobleys' food science class made cheese quesidillas and offered the extras to Ms. Miller.

In charge Custodians Mark Williams and Jeffrey Thompson keep everything running smoothly around campus.

Mr. Hensley speaks during the annual Veteran's Day assembly sponsored by Student Council.

What am I supposed to do with this?

Ashley Bray gives Mrs. Smallwood the ISS list but she's still thinking about her conversation with Mrs. Wiggins.

You did what!

Mr. Sturgeon listens intently as his students tell about their TASS writing experiences.

Proud Nana

Mrs. Drennan brought her grandson, Tyler to several pep rallies and volleyball games to cheer for the Lady Lions.

Surviving the streets?"

"Mambas" spill their guts about most embarrassing driving moments . . . . .

What do you think?

Q: What is the craziest stunt you've ever pulled on the road?

- 1: "Running away from Jimmy Skinner in a high speed chase," Lance Gholston.
- 2: "Driving on interstate at night with no lights on," Denisha Goldsmith.
- 3: "Running away from a cop on the Interstate," Josh Kasitati.

Q: What's your favorite excuse you use to get out of a ticket?

- 4: "Yes, I'm Brother Ken's son," Brooks Cox.
- 5: "I have to use the bathroom," Krystle Notley.
- 6: "Bad Cop, no doughnut," Bret Schenewerk .

"Quote"

"Unquote"

Juniors told us all about their driving abilities....or in-abilities. Students revealed everything from what kind of driver they are to wrecks they've had. Thirty-five percent declare themselves rebels on the road. Thirty-one percent said they were law-abiding citizens, and thirty-four percent said they were somewhere in between.

those 02's?

Juniors live spontaneously .....

Bent over backwards

Shane Johnson imitates a move from the movie The Matrix outside at lunch. He can always be found acting crazy. "My real name is Neo."

I don't get it....

Clint Williams attempts to explain Spanish to Heather Wardell.

"Spanish is fun, but very difficult," Heather said.

'02's rule!

Erin Barrett gets hyped up during the PG pep rally outside on the football field.

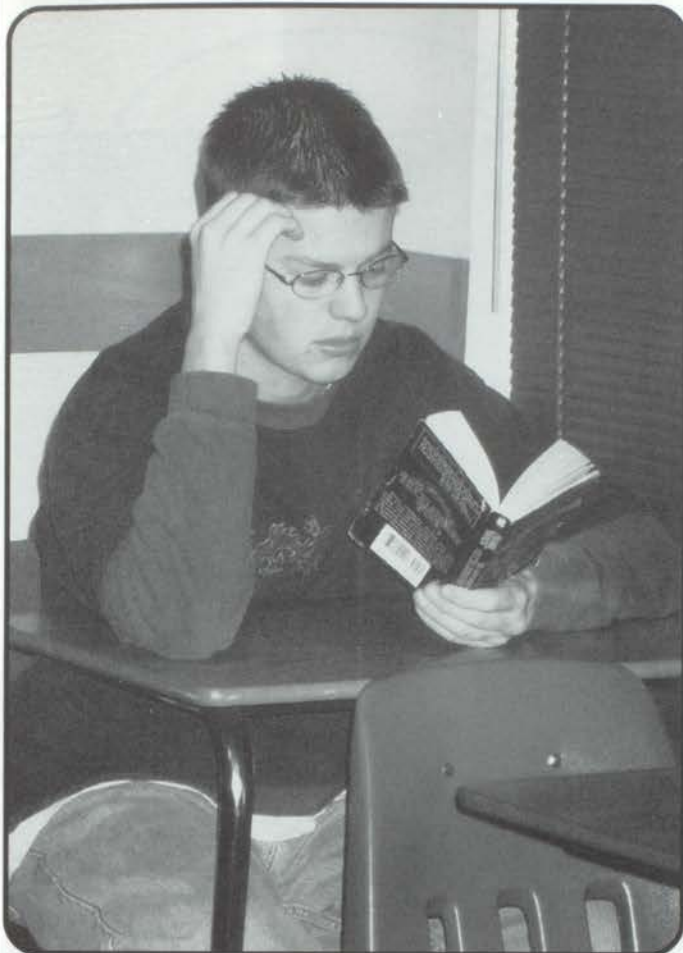

"The pep rally was fun because it was different and full of energy. The juniors should have won, though."

YEE-HAW!

B.J. Lewis rides his horse in the Pioneer Days parade.

"I had fun, even though it was very hot."

A+ student

Brooks Cox reads during study hall. "It's hard to read with Mr. Patton talking so loud."

Primping partners

Leisa McCright plays with Ashley Carroll's hair outside before school starts.

"She just wishes her hair could look like mine," Ashley said.

Gettin jiggy wit it

Amber Watson and Reshad Walker enjoy dancing together at the homecoming dance.

"The homecoming dance was fun....you know Shad and I had a blast," Amber said.

Booty call

Micah Crain motions to his backside while playing charades.

"I like Theatre Arts because it's more laid back and there is less homework."

Sunny days

Lindsey Whittington sports a big smile and HUGE sunglasses.

"Spirit week was a lot of fun because you got to dress crazy and get away with it."

Got giggles?

Shana Smith falls to the floor laughing in Mr. Patton's room during study hall.

"I just started laughing and couldn't stop."

Thinkin' hard

Chris Kite strains his brain to come up with the correct answer.

"I always did my homework in study hall so I could get help."

Crack a smile

Quinton Jones grins from ear to ear while decorating the sophomore float for the parade Thursday night before homecoming.

"I told Reverend Cox to pray for me and our float so that we would win."

Sticks and stones

Jana Parker poses as one of the Stone Age superstars, Betty Rubble, during the best homecoming parade New Boston has ever seen. The sophomore float, Stone the Dragons, displayed amazing creativity in their portrayal of the Flintstones.

"It was fun seeing how all of the floats were decorated."

Go Lions go

Elgin Sonson lets the student body know that the Lions are #1. The cheerleaders fired up the football team victory over Redwater at homecoming.

"I had to look happy, even though I was having a bad day."

Shake it fast

Brittany Burns twists and moves until she is almost completely out of breathe at the homecoming dance. Students had difficulty finding room to move in the old gym due to the great turn-out.

Sophomores make the rules as they go along

Who nose how to have fun

Kim Sipes and Jena Snowden strive to make lunch a little more interesting. Pinching each other's noses creates quite a stir in the cafeteria. "We were just goofing off and trying to have some fun at lunch," Kim said.

Get down to work

Joyce Mature studies the computer in hopes of making another good grade on Mr. Sturgeon's TAAS lab. "Those TAAS labs aren't fun, but they are better than doing class work."

Waiting Patiently

Aaron Hildebrandt relays his mother's advertisement to Ms. Purtle. "I was waiting on Ms. Purtle to take time out of her busy yearbook schedule to write me a receipt."

First come, first serve

On her way to majorette practice, Carrie Tyson finally gets a turn to talk to Mrs. Turner about her schedule. "I was trying to change my schedule to get out of Chemistry honors."

Let your hair down

Josh Martin takes a break from a stressful day at school and livens up Mr. Sturgeon's room with a little wig humor. "I was chillin' in Mr. Sturgeon's room because we weren't doing anything."

Yell with us

Rachel Cox, Ashley Rolf, Laura Webster and Josh Mills show their enthusiasm trying to win the spirit stick and get out for lunch five minutes early. Meanwhile, Crystal Abercrombie laughs at an inside joke of one of her classmates.

"The pep rallies are fun when everybody yells and participates," Mills said.

Search for victory

Theatre Arts students, Kellie Davis and Jimmy Davis, find the lost treasure during the Pittsburg pep rally. "I had fun doing this skit. I thought it was pretty good," Jimmy said.

Computer whiz

Ashley Coffman gives Ms. Manning some quick tips on the computer.

"Ms. Manning was swamped that day so I offered to help type the fall schedule of events. I had nothing better to do."

Food for thought

Alicia Waldon takes her time to savor the taste of the chicken rings in the regular lunch line.

"It is hard to get through the hall when the lunch bell rings, but I get to those chicken rings as fast as I can."

French Fries No Calories

Latoya Thompson chows down on the weekly Friday lunch... hamburger, fried potatoes, cookies and ice cream.

"I can't wait until my senior year when we have open campus, so I don't have to eat the same meals every week."

Open wide

Jeremy Potts stuffs his face at lunch. After scarfing down a few bites in the cafeteria he moves outside to check out the babes.

"School food is good food."

Let's do lunch

Ashley Shirley takes a bite of dessert before finishing her meal.

"I love the cookies they serve in the snack line."

those 04's?

Freshmen survive their first year at NBHS

Big pimpin'

Cason Hanes, Josh Terral, and Jacob Barker take a break from dancing at the Homecoming dance 2000. "We had fun cause we was pimpin' on them girls," Terral said.

Playing a tune

Michelle Langley, Amanda Marshall, and Candiss Martin play the fight song at the PG pep-rally outside. "Band was so much fun this year, especially since we did so well in competition and I had my friends with me," Langley said.

Clear the way

LaDonna Forsyth and Kristina Carter map out their schedule for the new year at August registration. "We've been best friends for a really long time and she's the one that I can always count on," Carter said.

Gettin' jiggy with it

Timothy Dorsey entertains the students by dancing at the JV pep-rally during lunch. "Just giving my fans what they want: excitement."

Wetting her whistle

Felicia Cross helps herself to a cup for some cool water as the band breaks from learning a new drill. "Afternoon practices were really hot, but the work paid off."

Patty-Cake

Ashley Mooney subs in for Brandy Wilson during the Atlanta volleyball game. "Volleyball was a lot of fun because I had friends that would cheer me on even," Mooney said.

Getting ready to WIN

Lauren Flournoy puts her horn together before the band contest at Gilmer. "I was nervous, but it turned out okay since we got straight ones."

Making the grade

Jeremy Harmon takes notes in Ms. Purtle's speech class.

"I like speech class and giving speeches, but I hate taking notes."

Signing up

Natasha Maidens signs forms and picks up her schedule during August registration.

"I wasn't ready for school to start. I wanted to go home."

Chow time

Robert Roseberry fixes his baked potato just how he likes it before devouring it at lunch time.

"I was scared that the food would be bad here, but it's not too awful."

Clowning around

Tomi Crump clowns around with her friends outside during lunch.

"I really like high school, especially since I get to spend so much time with my friends."

Royalty rides again

Keaton White and Lindsey Wiggins dressed in Medieval Times ride the drama club float.

"My first homecoming parade was so much fun, especially since I got to be on a float," White said.

Outlasting the rest

Academics

Often it seems simple to forget the true purpose in attending school. When everyone gets wrapped up in football games, weekend dates, after-school jobs, boyfriends and girlfriends, fundraisers, and countless other distractions, it can be difficult for students to focus on the real reason for coming to school at 7:55 each morning-- academics. Students at NBHS have created a great reputation academically. Thirty-three students participated in UIL events bringing home many trophies and a second place in district competition.

At the same time, Counselor Paula Turner spends the year preparing students for SAT, ACT, and assisting seniors with college entry. As a result, graduating seniors were awarded $439,684 in scholarships this year.

There is no doubt NBHS has proved that we can

Outlast the Rest.

Study hall

Josh Kasatati and Micah Crain look on as Kara Miller tries to clear up any confusion over their Algebra homework.

Street wise

In a bind for time, sophomore Joanna Nelson plops down on the sidewalk to finish some homework that is due after lunch.

Scholarship Money

Counselor Linda Brown presents Kim Self a scholarship certificate as Counselor Paula Turner reads the recipients names. This is the second year for the scholarship banquet. It is an opportunity to recognize the students and it cuts the graduation ceremony time in half.

Mud pie.....maybe

Terri Shavers plasters Kim Sipes' face to create a mask in Art class.

Why doesn't he love me

Mary, the countess, ponders her husband's infidelity with Suzanna while plotting to teach her cheating husband a lesson.

Behind the scenes

Jessica Lancaster and Lindsey Wiggins dress for the 18th century. Jessica plays in the courtroom scene, and Lindsey plays Suzanna, Brooks' 'clever fiance'.

Look what we found

Heather Wardell and Clint Williams made some interesting discoveries in the costume bags.

Social Survival Clubs

Living life to its fullest, students with similar interests joined different clubs and organizations on campus. The various community service clubs, the unique honor societies, and the special interests groups all played an important role in life outside of classes. Social Survival is difficult for active students involved in several clubs. It is not always easy to attend a club meeting at lunch or to get involved in a club project. Whether they were a member of the student council, FCS, band, drama club, science club, TALA, spirit club, NHS, Tomorrow Leader's Today, yearbook, or journalism, students tried to make as much motion as possible.

"It's a lot of work to get everything done, but I'm pretty sure I would be completely bored out of my mind if I was not so involved," senior Grant McElwee said.

Virtuous Moments

In 1962 prayer may have been outlawed in schools but it is legal for students to join together for group or individual prayer. The tenth annual See You At the Pole was held September 20 at 7 a.m. Music, ministry, and prayer brought teachers, parents, and students out to worship. High school students Keaton White, Sean Shelton, Brandon Kumpe, and Christy Jolley bow together in prayer at the end of the service.

Striving for state

The class 3A band competition is only held every other year. For the juniors and seniors this was their last chance to fulfill championship dreams. The band state competition was held at Waco High School November 6. The military stride with pride placed eleventh as the marching season came to an end. Matt Snyder, Erin McPherson, and Adam McElwee play the finale at the UIL contest. "It was great to finally get the recognition we deserved," Snyder said.

Shout it all out

Moneta Barber and Mary McChester have a four year tradition of sitting on the front row at pep-rallies. The senior class made the last pep-rally memorable by winning the spirit yell and joining together on the floor to do the fight song one last time. "We were so excited to show our school spirit and to help promote the other students to cheer along with the cheerleaders," Barber and McChester said.

Late breaking news

April Thompson, Jimmy Davis, and Kara Miller performed a skit during the DeKaib pop-rally. "And just how is that ingrown toenail Mr. Quarterback?" Miller said. This being the first year for the establishment of the drama club, the student body enjoyed watching their performances each week.

Student Council

STUCO elections take place in the spring of each year, but members go to work immediately planning projects. Serving the needy, raising money, organizing community events like Veteran's Day and blood drives are only a few ways the club lends a helping hand at school and in the district.

FINALLY! After begging for about fifteen minutes, sophomore Rachel Cox gets a balloon from the clown at the Red Ribbon Rally. "I think that the rally is beneficial and it encourages students to stay drug free."

The living dead Red Ribbon Week gives STUCO the opportunity to remind students how many people are killed each day due to drugs. Every twenty minutes someone was taken out of class and pronounced "dead." ↓

Good deeds

Junior Samantha Smith bravely donates blood for the STUCO blood drive.

Our fearless leader

President Sean Johnson chows down at Chili's when the officers and executive board went to eat after the Fall Forum. ↓

Heave-ho! Trey Coleman, Brooks Cox, Sean Johnson, and Haley Pynes load the clothes that were collected for the homeless shelter. "I like doing the clothing drive because it gives me a chance to clean out my closet and share good things," Pynes said.

Here we are. STUCO members attended the Red Ribbon Rally at Spring Lake park where they heard speakers tell about the dangers of drugs. ↑

Chattin' it up Seniors Alison Rolf and Kim Self discuss the new ideas they came up with during the Fall Forum.

Honoring all who served

A tribute to them all

Rachel Alford, Cricket Avery, and Rachel Cox participated in the choir. The choir practiced for two weeks prior to the assembly.

Always in my heart

Student council president Sean Johnson spoke to students about those who served... "and the blood you shed, I will honor forever."

Posting of colors

Juniors Lindsey Whittington and Brooks Cox carried the American and Texas flags into the auditorium. Students stood at attention to honor our nation.

God Bless the USA

Choir members Sonya Prince and Brittney Langley sing Here to start the assembly on November 11. "My heart goes out to those who served," senior Prince said.

Veteran's Day

Student council pay tribute to veterans

How did you feel about singing in the program?

"I was very honored to sing, although I was really nervous because I was afraid I would forget the words."

Kim Self

"I was overwhelmed to sing the National Anthem especially since my dad and grandpa who are both war veterans were sitting in the audience."

Emily AAddington

"It was pretty thrilling to get up in front of the whole school and sing. I was nervous and shaky but it was fun."

Lindsey Wiggins

"I was just so scared that I was going to chicken out because I was so nervous. I was about to crawl out of my pants."

Elgin Sonson

Black History

Program allows students to become involved in community and learn culture

Can't get enough

Senior Kenneth Wilson harmonizes his voice with Afton Thompson.

One more time

Junior Denisha Goldsmith accompanies the choir on piano.

Gesturing

Tameka Noel sings for the student body while paying respect to her culture.

In tune

National Honor Society

NHS promotes recognition of outstanding students in high school across the nation. Membership is by invitation for students who have been in an equivalent college prep or honors curriculum for a minimum of three semesters. Selection for membership is by vote of a faculty council based on scholarship, leadership, service and character.

Getting pinned

Trey Coleman waits for his blue and gold ribbon to be pinned on before being inducted.

Rise to the occasion

New inductees wait to be seated as the ceremony begins.

Standing Proud

President, Grant McElwee gives a welcome speech before the candle lighting takes place.

"Repeat after me..."

Larry Jefferson leads the new members in reciting the NHS pledge at the end of the ceremony.

Decking the halls

Sonya Prince and Haley Pynes try to create a little holiday spirit by decorating the Christmas tree.

Ready for delivery

Senior members stack boxes after box of can goods donated by NBHS students.

The procession Alison Rolf plays the piano while inductees enter the auditorium.

Roaring Times Newsletter Staff

Third Block

Ashley Coffman, Michele Shute, Jason Tolbert, Tameka Noel, Starr Freeman, and LeAnn Rains

Seventh Block

Jessica Cowley, Erica Penny, Elijah Dovell, Robyn Goodsell, and Tasha Hart

What skills have you gained as a journalism student?

I have learned to work with others, meet deadlines, different writing styles, and how to work under pressure.
Ashley Coffman
10

I read the paper more now, but mostly I learned that deadlines and I don't get along.
Elijah Dovell
10

I can think of cliches for almost any situation and my essays are more concise.
Starr Freeman
12

I have learned how to write news, features, editorial stories, and headlines.
Michele Shute
10

A behind the scenes look

What a relief

After the final paper was delivered, Erica Penny sat back to enjoy popcorn and a coke.

It takes everyone

Jessica Cowley helps with a yearbook fund-raiser by adding some finishing touches to the 'Super Stars' theme letters for the talent show.

Checking the files

Tameka looks through a schedule directory trying to locate a student to quote in her story.

Keeping long hours

Starr Freeman stares at the computer as she types her story wondering why it won't all line up on the page.

A daily ritual

Ashley Coffman reads the Dallas Morning News observing the format to various writing styles.

Journalism

Writing copy, reporting news, and selling papers keep journalism students busy

Drink for thought

After an extensive tour of the Gazette the staff went to Cici's for lunch.

On the run

Elijah Dovell searches for a hall pass to go on one of the many errands that it takes to keep the paper running smoothly.

Hot off the press

Tameka Noel and Ashley Coffman go room to room delivering the final edition of the Roaring Times Newsletter.

All patched up

LeAnn Rains searches for a picture to go with her story which was no easy task since she was wearing a patch over her scratched eye.

Learning from the best

The middle school and high school newspaper staffs toured the Gazette to gain understanding of the newspaper business.

Putting it together

After spotting a typo on the front page, Ashley Coffman, LeAnn Rains, Starr Freeman, and Michele Shute work to correct the mistake.

Laying it all out

Tasha Hart organizes the pages in order by section.

MEMORIES in the making

Hoppy Birthday!

Celebrating staff birthdays is a yummy yearbook tradition. Robyn Goodsell made a bunny cake for Erica Penny's birthday. ⇨

A..B..C.. Erica Penny tries to sort and alphabetize mug pictures.

Always laid back

John Baucum relaxes during Blaze Haze's discussion at the work-shop. ⇨

Students learn many skills in yearbook...

"It taught me many organizational skills, how to work well with others, and have patience with myself & the computer."

Cricket Avery

"I've learned who everyone at school is, people I had never even see before are familiar."

Haley Pynes

"Stress management, especially when I have a deadline to meet! Also to pay attention to details."

Erica Penny

"Patience! You have to be patient because things are going to go wrong. Patience gets you through the problems."

Erin Barrett

Easier said than done

Erin Barrett tries to decipher quotes before typing her pages.

Finding Pages

Brandi searches for her pages. Yearbook spreads are separated into boxes while working on deadlines.

Where to start

Robyn Goodsell draws a sample layout to present at the Jostens work-shop at Texarkana College.

All work, no play

Senior staffer Haley Pynes finds Jana Matney's personalized yearbook at the first annual popcorn signing party in the cafeteria.

Making it fit

Cricket Avery carefully crops a picture to the right proportions for a layout.

Only the Strong Survive

Sports

Screaming fans, well prepared athletes, and maroon and gold uniforms is what you can expect to see at every NBHS athletic event. Throughout high school, with building experience from freshman to junior varsity, all the way to competing at varsity level, athletes have the opportunity to gain a growing desire for competition and knowledge of how to play with a team. The Lions' survived a losing football, basketball, and baseball season, but outlasted all others in volleyball, softball, track, golf, and tennis. NBHS athletes proved that Only the Strong Survive.

"Our female athletes respect each other and the coaches of our teams. We know that it takes blood, sweat and tears to be a success, senior Cricket Avery said.

"Each player gives to their fullest potential and that is why we have made it to the playoffs in every sport."

Love - 40

Junior Daniel Edson hits the ball past his opponent in district play at the NBHS tournament. Daniel placed second in district and was a regional qualifier for the second year in a row. He was also chosen as the tennis MVP at the annual athletic banquet held on May 14, 2001. "The next Pete Sampras...whoa yeah!!" Edson said.

Not gonna get her

Senior Miranda Allen slides safely under the tag of QueenCity's third baseman. The Lady Lions were the district 15-3A champs and the area semi-finalist. The softball team had a winning record of 26-2. "That was an unforgettable slide. I had a strawberry for two weeks!"

Goin' for gold...again!

Junior Denisha Goldsmith is known for her speed in the 400 and 800 meter runs. She qualified for the state track meet for the third time in her running career. She won the gold in the 800 meter run at the state track meet in Austin, with her personal best time of 2:14.

Bump, set, spike it up

Volleyball team members Erin Barrett, Lelea McCright, and Lacey Stewart teamed up to shank the ball cross court against the DeKalb Lady Bears in non-district play. The Lady Lion's went on to beat one of their biggest rivals all three games when the two teams met.

Who are you yellin' for?

Elgin Sonson and Dorothy Barrett keep the crowd pumped during a time-out at the girls playoff basketball game.

"It was really exciting because the game was so close," Sonson said.

75 year tradition

New Boston and DeKalb met up for the 75th time in football competition. The Lions kept the pride alive with a 14-13 victory.

Build that spirit up

Flyin high

Teri McNeely goes up in an arabesque stunt at the PG pep rally. "Cheerleaders are angels because they are the only ones that fly."

Cheer-LEADERS

Captains Nicole Flanery and Kara Miller show their spirit at the pep rally. "I loved being co-captain with Kara. It was fun because we got to make a lot of decisions," Flanery said.

Keyed up and making memories

-Erica Penny

"My favorite memory is the homecoming dance and traveling to all the away games, especially when we stopped at DQ."

-Kara Miller

"The funniest memory from the past year was when we got into a heated cheer off with the PG parents because they were being rude, and then we beat them!!!"

-Laura Ward

"I will never forget the time I forgot about practice and had to go to Wal-Mart and buy some shorts to wear."

Whatever

Tonya Hall jokingly rolls her eyes during a cheer. "Acting crazy at all the games was fun."

Group Hug

Accepting the challenge!

Lady Lions earn position in district playoffs

Pass, set, spike, SCORE! Despite critics' comments, the Lady Lions set goals for themselves and surpassed them. The team faced a difficult road, but with countless hours of sweat, running, and defensive drills, the Lady Lions clinched a well earned playoff position for the first time since 1997. Taking third place in district, the ladies improved their record to 20-9 and won first place in the New Boston Invitational. Even though the Lady Lions came up short in the playoffs, there were smiles found among the tears.

A-C-E the serve. Alicia Waldon rares back to punch a power serve over the net against Hooks. The Lady Lions conquered the lady Hornets in an exhausting dual. "We really came together as a team, and that led us to a victory."

Tuck and pop Crystal Abercrombie and Mary Moore drop in a ready position while waiting for Liberty Eylau to return the ball. "We always practiced on getting down and ready, and I guess it finally payed off," Mary said.

Quotes from the net

In your face Courtney Hurd jumps to block a ball from the opposing team. The Lady Lions battled it out with Queen City to finish victoriously. "I think we could have tried a little harder, but overall we did pretty good."

They've got it covered

Coach Slatton and Coach Martin anticipate an upcoming play in the Daingerfield game. "The freshmen team worked really hard this year and caught on quickly," Slatton said. ⇨

M.T.X.E. we work hard.

Sidney Epperson, Ashley Slatton, Sara Raney, and Monique Carroll celebrate the first win against Clarksville.

"The game wasn't that hard, but we played to the best of our ability," Epperson said.

Down and ready

Ashley Mooney bends her knees to prepare for an upcoming spike for Atlanta. The Lady Lions dove for balls, served aces, and worked as a team but failed to bring it all together at the end. "It was a tough game, and we all played hard."

Hoopful thinking!

Lions improve strategy throughout season

Dribble, pass, shoot! The Lions young team worked hard all season, but came up short in the playoff picture. Inexperience caused the team to face many difficulties, but they never gave up. With leadership and dedication the Lions improved their record as the season progressed.

Lady Lions clench a well earned spot in the district playoffs

Bouncing back! The Lady Lions got back into the playoff picture for the first time in two years. Hard work and dedication payed off when they secured a playoff spot by defeating Queen City 65-36. Not only did the Lady Lions make the playoffs, they also broke a PG winning streak of 26 games by beating them 64-56 and reached their goal of winning 20 games. The Lady Lions beat Tatum in bi-district at Texas High which forced them into a meeting with Winnsboro. The girls fought hard, but were defeated to end the season with a 21-8 record. "We practiced long and hard every day and we deserved our playoff spot," junior Erin Barrett said.

A field of dreams

Despite high hopes the varsity team struggled through a long season, while the JV was successful

Changing coaches for the fourth straight year left the senior Lions lacking consistency and tradition. The season marked a year of disappointment with a 4-12 record. Junior varsity, on the other hand, had a more successful season and finished the year with a 7-2 record. They placed second in the district tournament. The baseball team can only look forward to a more successful and productive year on the diamond next season.

Lady Lions conquer district 15AAA softball

Season after season as the Lady Lions softball team takes the field, fans have a familiar uncertainty. Will the team excel above their potential? This year's spectators quickly found out this squad would drive away all doubt and devastate opponents. With an impressive 26-2 season record, the Lady Lions definitely left their mark on the district. Small margins of loss to talented Atlanta and Brownsboro showed that the Lady Lions could fiercely compete against all odds. The girls conquered both the Redwater varsity tournament and the New Boston McDonald's Classic. Under the direction of Coach Gary Miller, the team used their talents to the utmost level. Known across the district as the strongest defensive team, the Lady Lions dominated the All-district selection with all nine starters recognized.

Taking Strides

Three tracksters make showing at regionals

Run NB, run!! For the second year in a row, several athletes advance to the regional track meet. Courtney Hurd and Denisha Goldsmith represent the girl's track team while Kade Hanes competes for the boy's team. Denisha Goldsmith wins first in the 800 meter at both the regional and state meets. Although only three tracksters advanced to regionals, New Boston took several places at the district track meet in Atlanta.

① Sophomore Ryan Hughes launches the shot put at Atlanta. Hughes comes out with a fourth place finish

② Senior Jared Harrington places second throwing the discus 135 ft. at a meet in Mt. Vernon.

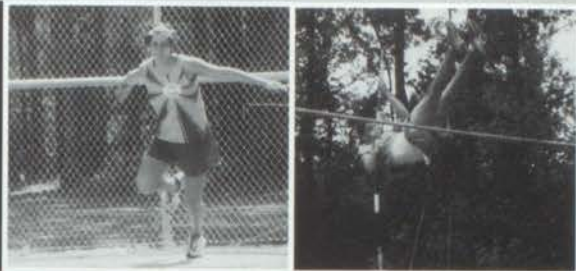

③ Sophomore Cedrick Dorsey strides it out in the 400 meter dash. Dorsey goes on to finish fourth with a time of 53.25.

Staying Alive

Middle School

Faces in the hall change every year. New faces appear, familiar ones move on, and some stay the same. Whether involved academically or athletically, middle school students find a way to rise above.

Welcoming new challenges, students stick together while strengthening bonds between friends and classmates. In the classroom or out in the community, on the field or off the field, taking a lunch break or roaming the halls, students display great attitudes and show individual talents.

Beating the odds on this island of success is what Staying Alive is all about. It is a matter of expectation.

"I enjoy being on the middle school campus because I have gotten to know so many people and we get to do a lot of cool things,"
Nikki Davis said.

Go Mighty Lions

Maegan Daigrepoint, Stacy Firth, and Nikki Davis follow yells led by the cheerleaders during the Liberty Eylau pep-rally. Uninhibited students show great spirit at middle school pep rallies. "Although we got beat by the Leopards our team showed competitive strengths throughout the game," Firth said.

Keeping the crowd alive

Majorettes Jessica Higgs, Bonnie England, and Kristen King taught football players Cade Mayo, Tyler Hilton, and Sam Collom a paddle routine to perform. Cheerleaders tried to involve students and teachers to get students up on their feet. Middle school pep-rallies have a tradition of being fun and full of spirit. "I was thrilled that the majorettes picked me to perform with them. It was fun yet embarrassing," Collom said.

Let freedom ring

Flag bearers Robby Moilanen and Cody Clark skated in the Pioneer Day's parade August 18, along with Mack McGee and Justin Self. They carried the United States and the Boy Scouts flags. Students from all campuses usually make appearances in the parade with their community organizations. "We got to skate behind the float because we didn't want to ride on it," McGee said.

1,2...1,2,3,4!

Team members Eric May, Derek Baker, Jared Staats, and Caleb Cross play drums in the pep-rally. Not only were they full of smiles but totally off beat as well. "I had fun during the pep-rally because we got to jami!" May said.

Who lights our torch

Cost of the 2001 Lion's Den Yearbook: $35...cost of years of memories just a page turn away. . . . priceless. Living in a small community makes it important to support one another. Local businesses lend financial aid to extra-curricular activities and to the 2001 Lion's Den annual to help make these events possible. With the support of people behind the scenes we are able to keep our torch lighted year after year. Area businesses and other strong Lion supporters donate plastic footballs, basketballs, fans, magnets, etc. to the cheerleaders to be given away at sporting events.

Big mouth burgers

Century Bank donated hamburgers, chips, and drinks to help the high school raise money to buy a new marquee for the school. Students, parents, teachers, and friends gathered before the game against DeKalb to grab a bite to eat. Cheerleaders and science club members sold tickets for the event. Coach Tyndel and Adam Megason are served by Mrs. Debbie McElwee at the tail-gate party. "The hamburgers were so good that I could have eaten about five more," Megason said.

$5,000 kick

During the New Boston vs. DeKalb game fans were given a chance to purchase a raffle ticket sponsored by Century Bank that would allow whoever's name was drawn to have a chance to kick a field goal from the twenty yard line. One person from each New Boston and DeKalb was given the chance. Mark Mayo from New Boston missed his attempt by a few inches. "I wish that Dad would have made it because I was looking forward to taking his money so mom and I could go on a shopping spree," daughter Brooke said. "I was hoping it wouldn't look like I was married to Charlie Brown," wife Terri said.

Eat more chicken

Senior Josh Foster pours coffee for Mrs. Merrill while working at Dur's Homeplate one morning during early December. "I love working at Dur's because my boss Maria is a blast to be around and it is such a great atmosphere!" Foster said. Durwood Merrill opened Dur's in late November. It gave high school students an opportunity to get involved in the restaurant business.

Keep em' coming

The NB Volunteer Fire Department gave their time to cook hamburgers at the tail-gate party. The fire department cooks for the school and community many times throughout the year. They also prepare the breakfast for after-prom activities.

Kevin Daniel

Dear Kevin,

We are so proud of the young man you have become. You have accomplished so many things these past years. Remember that we love you always and that the Lord will always guide you.

"For I know the plans I have for you, declares the Lord...plans to give you hope and a future...you will seek me and find me when you seek me with all your heart." (Jeremiah 29:11,13)

Where have the years gone? We have watched you grow from a little girl playing school with a chalkboard, endured all day ball tournaments in a downpour, gymnastics lessons, sleepovers, Girl Scout cookie sales, church youth group trips, earning Gold Award in scouting, building projects, driving lessons, school dances and shared in your tribulations of youth.

Our Graduate

You have blossomed into a confident young woman whose love of life and the Lord is surpassed only by your cheerful generosity. We are proud of you student but person you. We wish you success in fast challenges of adulthood, confident that you will achieve with your gifts and knowledge.

Joshua,

Congratulations! We are so proud of you and all you have accomplished during these first 18 years. You have given us so many great memories to cherish. The first chapter in your life is now closing, but so many more are to come. As you enter the University of Arkansas at Little Rock this fall, allow God to guide your path for He will never steer you wrong. Remember Philippians 4:13, "I can do all things through Christ Jesus which strengtheneth me." Our prayer is that all of your dreams and goals come true and remember...if you ever need a shoulder to lean on, we will always be there for you.

We love you,
Mom, Dad, and Ashley

Jared,
 God enriched our lives on April 6, 1983. From that day forward you have been a joy. You have had and will have many milestones in your life. In September of 1988, you started school and three days later Kelsey was born. Then came 13, you were a teenager. In 1998 you accepted Christ into your life. Another milestone was turning "16." You got your driver's license. Now a major milestone, high school graduation. You have more to come, so keep your eyes on God and enjoy life.

Love ya,

car'-men, a song

From the day you arrived some eighteen years ago, you have kept a song in our hearts. Your energy and enthusiasm are contagious, and your creativity and "knack" for finding practical avenues for your talents are uncanny. You have made excellent choices in your young life, and for that, we are extremely fortunate and proud. All these qualities will take you a long way in the world that awaits you.
